

U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service

Conservation Partnerships Program Pacific Islands Office Program Overview

Cooperative efforts to restore native ecosystems

The Conservation Partnerships Program is a collection of voluntary habitat restoration programs with the goal of restoring native Pacific Island ecosystems through collaborative projects.

The Conservation Partnerships Program can provide cost-share funds, as well as information on habitat restoration techniques, native species, Safe Harbor Agreements, additional funding sources, required permits, & potential vendors of restoration services (fence contractors,

PARTNERS FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE

Cost-sharing and technical assistance for long-term habitat restoration projects on private land.
http://pacificislands.fws.gov/worg/orgch_partners.html

PACIFIC ISLANDS COASTAL PROGRAM

A new effort to identify important coastal resource problems and solutions, develop partnerships to carry out on-the-ground conservation projects, and encourage community action in high priority coastal areas.
http://pacificislands.fws.gov/worg/orgch_coastal.html

HAWAII BIODIVERSITY JOINT VENTURE

Public-private conservation efforts to protect and restore native biological diversity through habitat restoration, restoration techniques development, and public outreach.
http://pacificislands.fws.gov/worg/orgch_hbjv.html

PRIVATE STEWARDSHIP GRANTS PROGRAM

A focused effort to combine cost-share funds to address high-priority habitat restoration needs of species that are endangered, threatened, candidates or species of concern on private lands.
http://pacificislands.fws.gov/worg/orgch_psg.html

OTHER HABITAT RESTORATION PROGRAMS

These include the National Coastal Wetlands Conservation Grant Program (<http://www.fws.gov/cep/cwgccover.html>) & the North American Wetlands Conservation Grant Program (<http://www.fws.gov/r9naawo/nawcahp.html>). Additionally, the Conservation Partnerships Program seeks to provide a connection between habitat restoration projects and non-USFWS funding sources.

RESOURCES

Habitat restoration resources available on the internet
http://pacificislands.fws.gov/worg/orgch_hrr.html

For additional information contact:

Craig Rowland
Conservation Partnerships
Coordinator
US Fish and Wildlife Service
Pacific Islands Ecoregion
300 Ala Moana Blvd., Rm. 3-122
Honolulu, HI 96850
ph.: (808) 541-3441
fax: (808) 541-4370
craig_rowland@fws.gov
<http://pacificislands.fws.gov>